

The TX unit built-in a temperature sensor, auto cycle collection the temperature data and TX Microprocessor code the data and send the digital signal to 433.92MHz for transmitting RF radio.

The transmitter consists of a fully integrated frequency synthesizer, a power amplifier, and a crystal Oscillator, and protocol setup are easily programmable through a UI interface. Current consumption is very low, only 2mA.